Dear Bay,

On behalf of all the people in the Agency who had the pleasure of hearing you speak on this past Tuesday, I would like to express my sincere thanks. Judging from the comments I've received, it can only be described as one of the best talks we've had since the inception of the program.

The group was especially gratified for the generous comment on the CIA that you made at the end of the session (which I unfortunately missed). Believe me, it means a lot to the people here and is very much appreciated.

Most of all, it was great to see you and to have a chat even briefly. Best to Donna and good luck on her finals.

Yours,

STANSFIELD TURNER

1. Thank you for agreeing to introduce Mr. Bayless Manning at the CIA Guest Speaker Program on Tuesday, 8 November, at 3:00 p.m. in the CIA Headquarters Auditorium.

2. Attached are: (1) Curriculum Vitae of Mr. Manning and (2) a draft of the CIA Employee Bulletin announcing his visit.

3. You may wish in your introductory remarks to welcome guests from the Intelligence Community who are in the audience.

4. It will be helpful if you will announce that the speaker has agreed to answer questions at the conclusion of his formal remarks and that, for those who may be concerned about catching shuttles or carpools, the program will conclude at 4:25 p.m.

5. We have Mr. Manning's approval for videotaping his presentation. It will be necessary for him to use the neck mike if he expects to move away from the podium.

6. Mr. Harry Fitzwater, Director of Training, will bring Mr. Manning to your office at 1430.

CIA GUEST SPEAKER PROGRAM
Bayless A. Manning

1. Mr. Bayless A. Manning, President of the Council on Foreign Relations, Inc., from 1971-1977, will be the CIA Guest Speaker on Tuesday, 8 November 1977, at 3:00 p.m., in the Headquarters auditorium. Mr. Manning's topic will be "World Affairs--A More Cheerful Perspective." The Director of Central Intelligence, Admiral Stansfield Turner, will introduce the speaker.

2. The Council on Foreign Relations, which Mr. Manning headed until a few weeks ago, is a private national organization which, since 1921, has been furthering the study in this country of international affairs. The Council is best known for its prestigious publication, Foreign Affairs, a quarterly review to which Mr. Manning has frequently contributed. The Council, which has a staff of 95 located in New York City, in addition, sponsors and publishes individual studies. It is an important forum for bringing together leaders of the scholarly community, government officials, and representatives of the private sector to exchange views on international issues.

3. A former Special Assistant to the Under Secretary of State (1962-1963), Mr. Manning has pursued his interest in foreign affairs side by side with his field of professional training, the law. A graduate of the Yale Law School, he was a Law Clerk of Supreme Court Justice Stanley F. Reed and a private practitioner before serving for a number of years as Professor of Law at Yale. In 1964, he was named Dean of the Stanford University Law School and served there both as Dean and Professor of Law until 1971. His courses of instruction included corporate law, international trade and investment, and Latin American legal institutions, among others. He is presently a partner in the New York law firm of Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton, and Garrison.

4. Mr. Manning has written extensively in both the law and foreign affairs. In the latter area, he is the author of "246 Years of American Foreign Policy," in The Americans, 1976; The Conduct of Foreign Policy in the Nation's Third Century, 1975; and Cuba and the United States - Long Range Perspectives, 1967. Recent articles in Foreign Affairs have been: "Goals, Ideology, and Foreign Policy" (January 1976) and "Congress, the Executive and Intermestic Affairs: Three Proposals" (January 1977).

5. He is a trustee of the Center for Inter-American Relations; the China Medical Board; the Council for Advancement of Legal Education (of which he is President); the Rockefeller University Council; the Urban Institute; and Yale University, among others. Among his many contributions to public affairs have been membership on the President's Commission on Campus Unrest (1970) and the President's Task Force on Government Organization (1966-67).

6. Admission to the lecture will be by ticket until 2:55 p.m., after which the remaining seats will be available to all. Tickets can be obtained from your component training officers.

Please Note: The lecture and question period will conclude by 4:25 p.m. We ask those attending to remain until the end of the question period as a courtesy to the speaker.
